Drive By Romance, 2017

Not the image of reality, rather the sensation of it, the manifestation of a moment out of time. Taking the fast lane on the highway of desire in search of short-time romantic encounters. The highway as the scenery for what could be film stills out of a road movie. The impressions left behind are distinct in their detail, some more than others, some almost photographic.

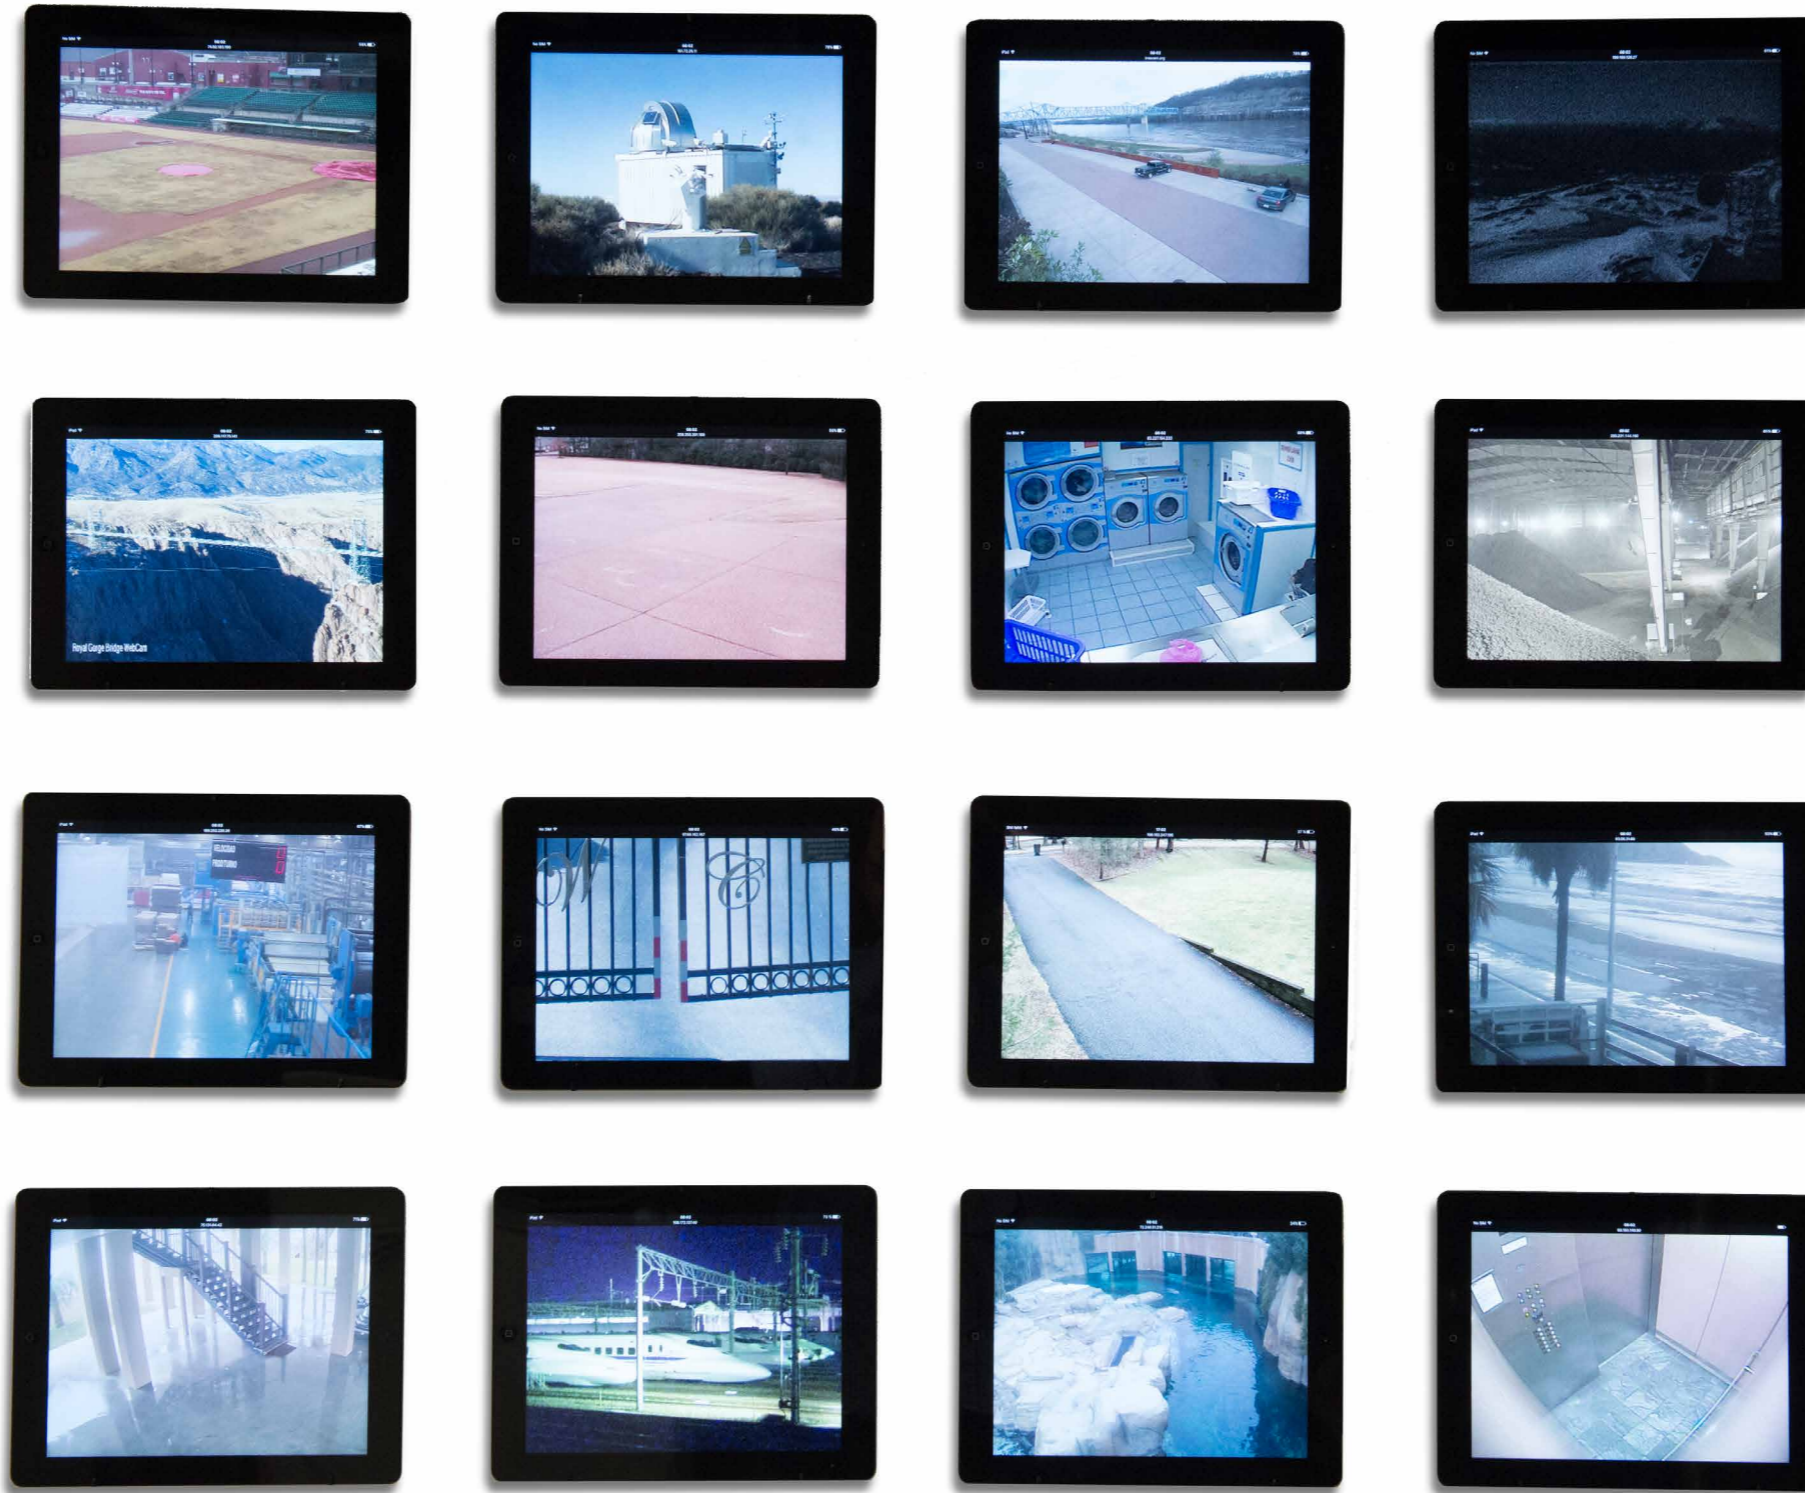

Untitled, 2020

60D0T, 2018
16 iPads with Livestreams
Collaboration with Philipp Rupp

Who still waits today without knowing for what? And is it not this anticipation of something that holds the disappointment of waiting in itself?
Not to wait for something, just to wait. Not to look at something, just to look. Enjoy the boredom.

Uniform, 2018-

Ongoing visual research about work uniforms in different countries. Designed to distinguish those who wear them, on the one hand uniforms signal membership of a category, an order or a corps, without distinction of class or background, on the other hand they can also highlight the wearer's separation from the community. The word „uniform“ simultaneously reveals inclusion and exclusion. What images are we connecting to uniforms, and what pictures are we encountering on a daily basis.
